

If you're a remittance service provider or digital currency (cryptocurrency) exchange (DCE) provider, you must apply to renew your registration every three years. This is so we can reassess your suitability to continue to be registered.

If you don't apply to renew your registration before it expires you will no longer be registered as a remittance service provider or a digital currency exchange provider.

The first section of this guide explains how to renew registration for a remittance network provider or independent remittance dealer. The second section explains how to renew registration for digital currency exchange provider.

Request for Renewal of Registration - Remittance Sector Register (ATRC1020HR)

Renewal request for DCE100658919-001
Prior to applying for renewal of a registration, a digital currency exchange provider should:
<ul> <li>Ensure that their registration and enrolment details are correct and current and have notified the AUSTRAC CEO of any material changes to their circumstances (this includes advising AUSTRAC of any serious offence charges, prosecutions or convictions, civil or criminal proceedings or enforcement action against the applicant or their key personnel).</li> </ul>
If you need to update this information prior to requesting your renewal, you can leave the renewal process now and download the business profile form (ATRC1002H)
AUSTRAC is working on modernising our online forms. If you wish to use the old form, download it here . Note that both versions of the form collect exactly the same information.
<ul> <li>Continue to retain relevant documentation and information relating to the initial application for registration.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Ensure that transaction reports and compliance reports are up to date, complete and correct</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Ensure that key personnel have been monitored in accordance with their due diligence program during the period of registration and prior to applying for renewal.</li> </ul>
If you satisfy these requirements,
